TRAINING SHIP DESTROYED BY EXPLOSION

One Hundred and Fifty Nine Officers And Men Lost.

THREE CAPTAINS KILLED

Tokio, Japan, 12 m. (Special to Mail.) The Japanese training cruiser Matsuprima, Togos flagship at the Yalu river, was sunk off Pescadores Island, this morning by an explosion. One hundred and fifty-nine officers and men including three captains were lost.

Warranted to Keep.

The playful element was never entirely absent from the late Prof. Drummond's class in natural science at Edinburgh university, and Dr. T. Hunter Boyd, in his book, "Henry Drummond," ascribes its frequent cropping out to the professor's own sense of humor, which encouraged naturalness.

On one occasion Prof. Drummond announced that unfortunately he could not meet the class next day, as he had an important engagement. The students heard that he was absent on account of his sister's wedding.

On the day following, when a geological specimen was passed round the class, it was prominently labeled "Drummond's wedding-cake."

It is said that the professor was as quietly appreciative as any member of the class.—Youth's Companion.

PERKINS RELEASED FROM JAIL ON BAIL

James Perkins, the miner held by the coroner's jury as being responsible for the awful disaster at the Ellsworth mine which last week resulted in the killing of four men, was yesterday released from the county jail on bail.

It was stated at the inquest that Perkins left open the door which was the cause of the accident and as the result of this testimony he was held for the grand jury.

ODD FELLOWS ENTERTIANMENT VERY PLEASING

Event Of Last Night Brought Out Numbers Of Lodgemen.

GOOD PROGRAM RENDERED

The Odd Fellows, their wives, and members of the Rebeckah degree had a great time in the I. O. O. F. hall last night with an entertainment and banquet. Music, recitations, and readings made the program replete with enjoyable features.

The program:

Selecton—Orchestra.
Recitation, "Octoroon"—Miss Larmer.
Recitation, "Jealous Wife"—Miss Shanks.
Song, "Smartie"—Earl Nicholson and Bannister Roberts.
Recitation, "Jamie"—Miss Welsh.
Selection—Orchestra.
Recitation—Miss Norris.
Violin Duet—Klysteber and Latchem.
Song, "I'm Afraid to go Home in the Dark"—Earl Nickolson and Bannister Roberts.
Reading—Miss Dorbitz.
Song, "Dear Old Girl,"—Mr. Klysteber.
Selection—Orchestra.

The entertainment ended by a one act comedy by members of the honse lodge, entitled "Casey's" Court. This was extremely funny and proved a source of much delight to the Odd Fellows and ladies. The judge was portrayed by J. B. Reid; Profs. Attor, by Robert Craig; Lawyer Bismark by C. R. Welsh; Officer McGinty, by M. L. Byrnes; Domini Bradia, by J. B. Savage; Rosy Posy by Miss Ella Watson; Mary Dough, by Elizabeth Byrnes; and Jimmy the Dough, by Joseph Thompson.

The banquet after the entertainment was a big affair. Visitors were present from lodges in the surrounding towns.

CONCERT TONIGHT AT SCHOOL HALL

Tonight is the time for the big Monongahela Valley Chorus at the School Hall and tickets are going fast. The program will consist of numbers by the chorus from the greatest masters of the past and present ages, readings by Miss Knowles and piano solos by Prof. Morse.

Prof. Cornell has chosen the best music possible for his program and has diligently trained his singers. The candid opinion of a Charleroi man who ought to know concerning their ability as singers is that the Valley chorus is one of the best organizations of the kind in the country, and will surprise even the Charleroi people who expect the most of them.

The reader, Miss Knowles is an accomplished lady in her line and one of the best on the stage today. The pianist, Charles Frederick Morse is widely known as a musician. He will use the A. B. Chase piano, furnished by S. Hamilton company, Pittsburg.

MONONGAHELA OPERA HOUSE TO BE TORN DOWN

At Expiration of Present lease Owners Will Begin Making Improvements.

WAS GOOD PLAYHOUSE

The first of July next will mark the passing of the opera house at Monongahela. At that time the lease of Manager Willoughby will expire, and he has been notified by the owners, of the First National Bank, that it will not be extended. This decision was arrived at by the bank officials on Monday, when tentative plans were adopted for the remodeling of the building. As now planned, the second story of the building will be fitted up for offices. The third story will be used either for flats or a public hall, that matter not having been definitely decided by the board of directors. The first floor, now occupied by Corrin and Corrin, whose lease expires the first of next January, will be fitted up for a banking room as soon as possession is obtained, which will not be until after the first of the year. Work on these improvements will likely begin as soon as the lease of Mr. Willoughby expires, which will be some time after July 1. Corrins will continue to occupy the store room until the expiration of their lease, when the grocery store will be removed to a commodious location which Mr. Corrin has in view.

The opera house was erected by the late Dr. H. J. Gamble, in 1855, and the upper floors have been used as an opera house from that year until the present time. Whether another playhouse will be erected in the city is a question that is now under advisement, and one that will be settled with a few weeks.

Letter to Philip Snow.

Charleroi, Pa.

Dear Sir: The maker, who puts 2 or 3 lbs of whiting barytes or clay in a gallon of paint, saves $1.50 or $2.25 for himself and makes you overpay $25 on a $50 job.

It takes 15 gallons of his weak paint—it is weak from that adulteration and probably weak from benzine or water besides—it takes 15 gallons of that poor stuff to cover a 10-gallon of Devoe; it may take 20. Here's a case:

Judge I D Fairchild owns two houses, exactly alike, in Lufkin, Texas, J M Torrence painted both houses, one Devoe, 15 1-2 gallons; the other with another paint sold at same price;: 25 gallons. That 25 gallon paint is weak and 15 0-0 whiting; that's why it took 9 1-2 gallons more.

It costs $2 to $4 a gallon to paint any paint, whether good or not. Add this to the price, and the cost of your job is $5 a gallon: $75 or $100 for trash; Devoe $50.

Paint that takes more gallons may or may not be adulterated; there are 8 pure paints and 200 adulterated; Devoe is the strongest of all; it takes least gallons, makes the least bill, and wears longest of all.

You can overpay from 10 to 120 per cent. and the more you pay, the worse your job. In paint, the rule is less gallons, least cost, longest wear.

Yours truly

EAST LIVERPOOL HIT TO HEAVY FOR LOCAL BOYS

Shove Five Runs Over While Two Were Enough.

GOT TEN HITS OFF MAC

After Charleroi had succeeded in chasing a run over the plate in the fourth inning of yesterday's game East Liverpool got busy and held them safe during the remaining stages of the game. While they were holding the locals safe they were wielding the willow some themselves and in all managed to tally five runs, three of which came in the sixth inning.

Charleroi scored their only tally in the fourth. Nally singled and Jenkins sacrificed him to second. Gilbert followed Jenkins with a hot one at third on which Nally scored from second. During the remaining portion of the game the locals had no opportunity to score, but one more hit being registered, which went to Mathers in the seventh.

The Pottery City boys got their first one in the fourth when "Sunny" Price hit to left field fence for three bases. Kunkle followed Price with a long fly to Mathers in right on which "Sunny" scored. The sixth inning brought defeat to Charleroi when there were registered by East Liverpool. After Beecher had gone down from Cosgrove to Jenkins, Woodroff doubled. Tarleton followed with a single and stole second. Alcock got his second single sending two runs over with the drive. McClelland made the second out from Houser to Jenkins. Price drove one to Houser which he booted and the third run crossed. The last one come in the ninth on Alcocks single and stolen base followed by a single by McClelland. Score.

East Liverpool looks pretty good.

Tarleton was given the glad hand by his local admirers.

Beecher had a busy day at second accepting 12 chances without a slip.

Tomorrow the Pa. & W. Va. opens, with Charleroi at Uniontown Saturday, will be opening day in Charleroi.

Alcock seems to be there some with the stick having three singles out of four times up. He also had two stolen bases and scored two runs.

Charleroi looks better every day and with a little warm weather they will quickly round into shape.

Willig's arm is still pretty sore and he may be out of the game for another week.

ELDORA PARK WILL HAVE A GOOD SEASON

Manager Sloan Booking dates For Picnics This Spring and Summer.

OPENING SAT., MAY 23

On Saturday, May 23, Eldora Park will open auspiciously for the spring and summer season, and the present indications are that it will this summer be more popular as a pleasure resort than during the previous seasons.

The last's year's manager, Tom P. Sloan, was re-elected at a recent meeting of the board of directors and will have a force of men on the grounds tomorrow getting the park in good shape. Everything will be in perfect readiness for the opening day, when a large crowd is anticipated. On Wednesday May 27, the Monongahela schools will enjoy an outing at Eldora, the pupils, directors and parents to be the guests of Mr. Claude E. Towner. The following day, May 28, the Charleroi schools will have their outing.

Perhaps the most important booking of the summer will be the annual picnic and outing of the Valley clubs of Odd Fellows. They will have the park engaged for July 15. Until this year the Odd Fellows have held their outing at Grove City and it is an occasion much looked forward to by the members of that lodge. Other lodges and societies are already booking dates, so that the park can but have a prosperous season.

Children Should Be Models.

The kings of Persia place their children under the direction of four of the greatest men of the nation, viz., the most wise, the most just, the most temperate and the most courageous. The first teaches them religion. The second inculcates in them the strongest principles of truth and justice. From the third they learn to subdue their passions; and from the fourth they acquire a contempt of danger.

TENDER MEMBER FAREWELL SURPRISE

A farewell surprise party was tendered Mrs. Mary E. Dunn, at her home at Fallowfield avenue and Eight street, last night by a number of the members of the tribe of Ben Hur from Charleroi and Monessen. Mrs. Dunn leaves today for Pittsburg where she will make her future home and as is the custom with the Ben Hurs, they desired to honor her by a party. There were the usual diversions of a social nature. Instrumental and vocal music was furnished, A. B. Stevens of Monessen, and Albert Wilson of Charleroi contributing largely to the evening's entertainment with vocal solos.

Refreshments were served the guests.

FEEHAN SAYS HE NEVER MADE SUCH STATEMENT

Returns From Mercer-Butler Field To Pittsburg.

REACH NO AGREEMENT

President Francis Feehan, of district No. 5, of the miners' organization, returned to Pittsburg yesterday from Greenville, where he has been endeavoring to adjust the wage scale differences between the miners and operators of the Mercer-Butler field.

He expressed the greatest indignation over the report that he is said to have declared that he would put conditions up to the operators of the Pittsburg district that would result in their refusal to sign a wage scale contract for the district and plunge the Western Pennsylvania fields into a strike involving 50,000 men.

The miners' leader reiterated his denial that he has made such a statement and says that he has been misquoted. He admits discussing the Western-Pennsylvania situation while at Greenville, but says his attitude regarding the Pittsburg situation is far from being antagonistic.

Operators were in consultation with the miners' district officers yesterday and it is probable that the postponed wage scale conference to formally sign the new Pittsburg scale will be held next week.

In discussing the situation in the Mercer-Butler field, President Feehan said 2,000 men are involved in the trouble. He says that they are the worst paid miners of the county and that their working conditions are abominable. No agreement has been reached with the employing companies and the leaders of the miners says that none is probable for some days.

Not The Proper Argument.

One of our Monongahela exchanges urging the election of a County Superintendent of Schools, desires him to be chosen from "a river town."

It is the man, not the town, that fills the office. Qualification, not the place of residence, should be the guide in the selection of an official.

If a candidate from "a river town" has the superior merit and better qualified to fill the position than a candidate from another part of the county, then he should be chosen without a dissenting vote. If, on the other hand, a candidate from Washington, Canonsburg, or elsewhere, possesses superior merits and can direct the school affairs towards the highest standard, that mans hould be selected.

The Jeffersonian qualifications, "capable and honest," should be the sole standard used in selecting a new superintendent of schools or for any other office,

The sectional feeling and division, hitherto existing, has wrought much evil in the affairs of this county and should no longer obtain, least of all, in selecting a man for an office which bears such an intimate relation and so vitally interests all of the people and is so fraught with possibilities for weal or woe to the rising generation of Washington county as that of the Superintendent of Schools.

We repeat, the best qualified man, not his place of residence, is the only rule by which to be guided in filling that office. Any other rule is dangerous to the morale and advancement and progress of education. Finally, why should not the people vote for a Superintendent of Schools?

Cannot Be Suited.

It were folly to suppose that the upon any point affecting the tariff would meet with favor in the eyes of the Pittsburg Post.

The Post declares there is paper trust. Messrs. Dalzell and Cannon want that charge investigated. The Post wants the tariff on paper removed on exparte evidence. Messrs. Dalzell and Cannon have to be shown. Hence the wails of The Post.

Well Done.

The Republican State Convention held yesterday was a model. In its brevity, in the platform it was notable. The felicitious language used in commending the distinguished services of our United States Senators left nothing to be desired. Its eulogy of the State administration was just and deserved

The character of its nominee for Superior Court Judge is reproachless and his renomination was a graceful acknowledgement of that fact.

There were no factions, no divisions nor squabbles. The party is united, harmonious, presaging an old-time time victory in the Fall. The delegates transacted their brief business in an admirable and deserve praise. The convention was one of good omen.

The Other Way.

There was a hopeful gleam in the eyes of the young man with a slightly retreating chin as he approached the father of his ladylove.

"Will you give your daughter to me in marriage, sir?" he asked in as firm a tone as he could muster.

"I'm afraid you are not well enough acquainted with her, young man," remarked the father.

"Why, I've seen her twice a week for nearly a year," said the astonished suitor.

"That may all be," said the parent, "but if you knew much about her character you'd have said, 'Will you give me to your daughter in marriage?'"

A Poet's Slip.

A correspondent of London Notes and Queries has "caught out" Mr. Kipling in an extraordinary blunder. He finds it in the "Last Chantey" in these lines:

Then said the souls of the slaves that men threw overboard:
"Kenneled in the picaroon a weary band were we,
But thy arm was strong to save,
And it touched us on the wave,
And we drowsed the long tides idle till thy trumpets tore the sea!"

"Of course," says the commentator, "the word Kipling meant to use was barracoon, the technical term for a slave pen. Picaroon means a rogue."

Helping a Revolutionist.

[Original.]

While at St. Petersburg the American minister secured an invitation for me to a state dinner at which the emperor and empress were present. I didn't care to go to another one. Any enjoyment in court society in Russia in these days is like smoking while sitting on a barrel of gunpowder.

Opposite me sat an important government functionary, a man about forty years old, and his dinner companion was a girl of twenty. I was struck with her appearance the moment I placed my eyes upon her, and yet I could not explain why. All I can say is that she was noticeable. I concluded that she would not have been there had she not been noble.

She chatted affably all through the dinner with her companion till the end, when I noticed that she suddenly became agitated. She was eating nuts and raisins at the time and bent low over the plate containing them, using a nut pick as though she were nearsighted. When she raised her eyes they met mine, and I thought I saw in them a mute appeal.

Naturally the girl absorbed all my interest. Indeed, when we all rose at the departure of the emperor and empress, instead of craning my neck to get a glimpse of them I kept my eyes fixed upon her. When we seated ourselves again she seemed to be annoyed at something under the table and put a hand under it, apparently, at least, to feel what it was. She had no sooner done this than I saw her again look at me with that same mysterious something in her eyes. Whatever it was it was more like an appeal for help than anything else. I returned it with a questioning glance, as if to say, "What do you want me to do?" But there is a limit to what one can say simply by an expression, and she seemed to be able to help me no further.

Meanwhile I was racking my brain for a solution. I am a believer in transference of thought, and I am sure the girl assisted my mental effort by exerting her will power to guide me. I put my hand under the table. The girl turned ashy pale. I felt about in front of me till my fingers came in contact with some little pointed article sticking into the bottom of the table. I withdrew it and found it to be a nut pick. It was stuck through a bit of paper folded in the form of a rectangle. This I knew without taking my find out into the light, working with one hand while with the other I held the stem of my wineglass.

Now, it did not occur to me just then that I was in imminent danger of being whisked off to Siberia before daylight the next morning. I knew, however, that the girl was playing some desperate game, and all my faculties were exerted in her behalf. It did not require deep penetration to surmise that she wished to get rid of the rectangular folded paper or something in it. The nut pick must be unimportant and only a means to an end. I contrived with one hand to open the paper. I thought I could feel a powder in it, and, withdrawing my hand far enough to look at it, I saw that the thumb and finger were covered with something white. If there was any more of the contents it must have been scattered on the floor.

For a time I thought my work done, but presently it occurred to me that enough of the powder or whatever it was would cling to the paper to identify the former substance. A happy thought occurred to me. Taking a cigarette from my pocket and a match, I struck the match. I had crumpled the paper and instead of lighting my cigarette at once chatted with my next neighbor, and then, pretending to notice that the match was nearly burned, I touched it to the paper and lit the cigarette from the latter.

The moment the paper began to burn a waiter on the opposite side of the table hurried around to where I was. I knew surely that he was coming to me for a purpose, but he was too late. When he reached me the paper had become ashes.

I cannot to this day forget the look of the girl opposite. It was the quintessence of relief and gratitude.

On leaving the palace I was taken in charge by Cossacks, driven to police quarters and searched. They found only in my vest pocket a nut pick, which I have at the present day. I had my passport with me, and my captors knew that I had been invited to the dinner at the request of the American minister. This, considering that they had no evidence of political or other crime against me, gained me my liberty, but I was ordered to leave Russia at once. Having seen all I wanted of a society living on dynamite, I departed by the first train.

The episode remained unexplained till more than a year afterward, when I had returned to America. One day I received a call from a Russian. He told me that he was a member of an American branch of a Russian secret political society whose object was to aid the revolution. His circle had been ordered to find me and to thank me for saving the daughter of a Russian noble high in favor with the emperor from death or Siberia. Her dinner companion was a man hated by the revolutionists. She had gone to the palace prepared to poison him, but discovered that she was watched by a government official in the dress of a waiter. I asked him what had become of the girl, but on this subject I received no information whatever. The chances are that she is in a Siberian prison, but I do not like to think of that.

Among the Exchanges

The license court of Greene county granted a license to sell liquors to only one applicant in the entire county. Adverting to this the Connellsville Daily Courier says: "Greene county grants but one license and that is on the Fayette county line. The license court evidently wants Greene county to receive all the financial benefits of the license system with as little injury as possible."

The people of Hughsville, up in Lycoming county think of cutting down their shade trees, which leads the Williamsport Sun to say: "The Hughesville folks are discussing the question as to whether the cutting of many of the fine old shade trees that formerly bordered the main street of that town has destroyed some of the beauty of the place. To be sure the erection of many new buildings, the requirements of business, the convenience of property owners often combine to make necessary the removal of trees. But never unless absolutely necessary ought a shade tree be sacrificed. Her fine old shade trees were one of the prides of Hughesville adding both to to the comfort of her people and the attractiveness of her streets. Save the trees."

Curiosity Not Stilled.

A certain Tombs prisoner landed in jail almost penniless. He was a man who had figured in a number of the town's shady transactions, and his name was pretty well known. A few days after his incarceration he wrote to a friend asking for a monthly allowance of $10 to be continued during his term of imprisonment. The friend, remembering past favors, remitted the amount each month during a period that covered two trials and the long time intervening. One day it occurred to him to inquire into the manner of expending the allowance. He supposed it was used to buy occasional extra meals, a few cigars and newspapers, but just as a matter of curiosity he asked for particulars. He found to his astonishment that the prisoner had never ordered an extra meal and had not smoked a cigar all the time he had been in jail.

"Then what in thunder," demanded the man, "have you been doing with that $10 a month?"

"I subscribed to two press clipping bureaus," replied the prisoner coolly. "You don't suppose, do you, that I am going to pass through this, the most critical time of my life, without finding out what everybody has got to say about me?"—New York Times.

He Grasped the Idea.

"Tommy," said his teacher, "the words 'circumstantial evidence' occur in the lesson. Do you know what circumstantial evidence is?"

Tommy replied that he did not.

"Well, I will explain it to you by an illustration. You know we have a rule against eating apples in school. Suppose some morning I should see you in your seat with a book held up in front of your face. I say nothing, but presently I go around to where you are sitting. You are just studying your lesson, but I find that your face is smeared, while under the edge of your slate I see the core of a freshly eaten apple."

"I should know just as well as if I had caught you at it that you have been eating an apple, although, of course, I did not see you do it. That is a case in which circumstantial evidence convicts you. Do you think you know what it is now?"

"Yes, ma'am," said Tommy. "It's eating apples in school." — Youth's Companion

The Mormons.

The Book of Mormon appeared in 1830. Joseph Smith of Palmyra, N. Y., claimed that he had received it as a new Bible for all mankind. He began preaching Mormon doctrines, gathered followers, who migrated to Kirkland, O., and later to Missouri, whence they were driven out by their neighbors. They then went to Illinois, building the city of Nauvoo, and adopted polygamy, but they met with strong opposition there and finally settled at Salt Lake. They had hardly reached there, before the foreign soil they had chosen was a part of the United States by a treaty with Mexico.

Bill—I see he is trying to have the judge's sentence reversed.

Jill—What was the sentence?

"Ten dollars or ten days."

"Well, I don't see what good it would do to have it reversed."

"Why not?"

"Wouldn't ten days or $10 be just as bad?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Tolerant Orientals.

Both the Chinese and the Japanese have shown throughout their history great toleration in matters of religion. Even the persecution of Christians in the seventeenth century had its origin purely in political reasons. — Japan Chronicle.

The Last Word.

"Your wife likes the last word, doesn't she?"

"I don't think so," answered Mr. Meekton. "Anyway, she's mighty reluctant about reaching it."—Washington Star.

Be a booster. The knocker is usually the man who waits for something to turn up or tries to get something for nothing.—Salt Lake Tribune.

STEAM-SCHOONER IS UNIQUE

Vessel of the Pacific Adapted to Carry Heavy Loads.

The steam-schooner, a vessel whose build and habits are peculiar to the Pacific, writes Mr. Ralph D. Paine in "The Greater America," often goes to sea "with her load-line over her hatch," which means that after her hold has been crammed with cargo, a deck-load of lumber is piled halfway up the masts, so that her skipper puts out with the water washing over his main deck.

Along the harbor front of Seattle runs the story of a passenger who loped down to the wharf in a hurry to get aboard a departing steam schooner. He balanced himself on the stringpiece for an instant, looked down at what little he could see of the laden craft, and hove his gripsack down the only opening in sight. He was about to dive after it when a lounger on the wharf shouted:

"Hi, there! Where do you think you're jumpin' to? That's the smokestack you tossed your baggage down."

"What!" gasped the passenger, "I thought it was the hatch."

The story has a slight flavor of exaggeration, but it may serve to hint that the commerce of the Pacific has ways of its own.—Youth's Companion.

Lands and Acreage

NOTICE

TO FARM BUYERS AND INVESTORS

Send for our free illustrated booklet giving full particulars of farm lands in the great "PANHANDLE OF TEXAS."

This is the best location for a farmer, as well as an unequalled opportunity for the investor, as the prices are now low, but are going up very rapidly. The land is nice and level and is much richer than farm land in Pennsylvania. A wonderful variety of crops are successfully raised; in fact, you can make more than the cost of your farm in the first year.

The climate is the very best to be found anywhere. The rainfall during the crop growing season is as great as in the Northern States and there is also an inexaustable supply of fresh water underlying all our land.

Now is the time for you to investigate this proposition, as thousands of people from the north are continually locating there and you should not wait until the prices are too high.

We own or control several hundred thousand acres near railroad and towns, which are being sold for from $10 to $30 per acre, according to location. Good terms.

Our next excursion leaves April 21 and we want you to go with us. Very low rates and first-class accomodations.

We want you to go to see this land as soon as possible, and if after seeing it, you find that we have misrepresented it we will pay you for your time and and expense of making the trip.

You Can Easily Operate This Typewriter Yourself

Don't worry your correspondent.

Don't write him anything by hand that takes him time to make out—that may leave him in doubt—that he can't easily read.

And don't fill out legal papers or send memos—or make out accounts or hotel menus in your own handwriting.

It looks bad, reflects on your standing, makes people think you can't afford a stenographer, and is sometimes ambiguous.

You can write out your letters—make out an abstract—fill in an insurance policy—enter your card memos—make out your accounts or a hotel menu—or do any kind of writing you need, on any kind, size or thickness of paper, and space any way you want on

The OLIVER Typewriter

You can write any of these things if you do not happen to have a stenographer.

For you can easily learn, with a little practice, to write just as rapidly, and as perfectly, as an expert operator on the OLIVER. Because the OLIVER is the simplified typewriter. And you can see every word you write. About 80 per cent. more durable than any other typewriter, because it has about 80 per cent. less wearing points than any other typewriter.

80 per cent. easier to write with than these other complicated, intricate machine that require "humroing"—technical knowledge—long practice and special skill to operate.

Than machines which cannot be adjusted to any special space—with which it is impossible to write abstracts, insurance policies, to fold documents except you buy expensive special attachments requiring experts to operate.

You can adjust the OLIVER to any reasonable space—you can write on any reasonable size and thickness of paper, right out to the very edge, without the aid of any expensive attachments or special skill, and your work will be neat appearing, legible and clear.

For the OLIVER is the typewriter for the doctor, the lawyer, the insurance agent, the merchant, the hotel proprietor—or any man who does his own writing.

Write us now for our booklet on the simplified features of the OLIVER.

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times, the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent. interest paid in savings department.

Marlin

THE Marlin Model 1894 is a medium light weight repeating rifle, a well proportioned, finely balanced gun with all the advantages and comforts of the Marlin solid-top, side-ejecting construction. It is quick and easy of operation, accurate up to 300 yards and a very pleasant gun to carry and to shoot.

For settled districts and farming country where the shooting at woodchucks, badgers, foxes, coons, hawks, etc., is at ranges from 100 to 200 yards, the .25-20 and .32-20 rifles with the Black and low-pressure smokeless loads cannot be equalled for accuracy and safety. The factory ammunition for the Model '94 rifles is cheap, and can be reloaded at very small cost.

The up-to-date sportsman needs the "Marlin Book" every day in the year. It contains 136 pages of live stuff for the man who loves a good gun, and wants to know everything about it. FREE for 3 stamps postage.

RESULTS OF MINE EXAMS

13 For Mine Foremen And 23 For Fire Boss-

ONE CHARLEROI MAN

The examination board of miners of this district, consisting of Henry Louttit, John McVicker and A. N. Jenkins, which last week conducted an examination at Monongahela for fire bosses and mine foremen, last night decided on the successful applicants, and today made the result known.

Of the twenty-four men who took the examination for mine foremen only thirteen made a sufficient grade to pass. Of forty-three applicants for fire bosses, the examining board returned twenty three papers with a passing grade.

Those who passed the examinations will be taken to the Catsburg mine next week to try the safety lamp with the gas.

One Charleroi man was successful, A. B. Brown, of McKean avenue, who was an applicant for mine foreman.

MUST HAVE ASTONISHED BRUIN.

Hunter Dropped from Limb and Brute Shot Up in the Air.

"I never fooled a bear but once in my life," said an old California hunter. "I was hunting quail with a light gun one day, when I suddenly met a very large bear. I was willing to pass without speaking, but Bruin was mad about something and bristled up for a fight.

"So I let him have both barrels, and then cut for a tree. The shot dazed him for a minute, and then he gave chase, and pretty soon came clawing up after me. There was a long, projecting limb on one side, and when I saw him coming, I got out to the extreme end, although it bent like a reed under my weight.

"Out came the bear after me, slowly and carefully, and with every step the branch bent lower. When the bear got within two yards of me I was within ten feet of the ground. Then I dropped down, and, as the bear shot up 20 feet in the air, I made for home as fast as I could run."

BIG FEATURE ACT AT STAR

A feature act is booked for the Star this week, said to be one of the biggest acts of the kind in vaudeville today. This is Cora Swaine's four and twenty Cocatoos. These bird performers are wonderful, and the amount of knowledge stored in their little brains would almost put some humans to shame. In fact they do everything but talk and even try that sometimes.

Others at the Star are Dick Miller, dialect and mimic comedian and Dan Randall, character singing and dancing comedian.

Basille Tinant, an employee of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company, left this afternoon for a two month's visit to his native land, Belgium.

Misses Madge Miller and Elma Lane of the California State Normal were visitors at the home of Miss Ruth Eller over Sunday.

Miss Mary Bryant of Pittsburg is visiting at the home of Harry Grip.

Miss Martha Krepps is very ill at her home threatened with typhoid fever.

Miss Anna Giveson of Pittsburg is visiting relatives here.

The commencement exercises of the North Belle Vernon school will be held in the First Presbyterian church on Thursday evening. The members of the class are Jennie W. Ferguson, Lillian Perry, Gladys Weller, Norman Anderson and Elizabeth McClain. Rev. Baker of the First Presbyterian church preached the baccalaureate sermon to the members of the class Sunday evening.

Miss Eliza Mathews of Ninth street has left for New York to spend a few weeks with her brother, Joseph Mathews.

Fred Wagner, general contracting agent of the Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace shows, combined, was in Charleroi yesterday and made a pleasant call at the Mail office.

Getting Square.

A tight-fisted man in a small town in Pennsylvania, who until recently had never been observed to take any interest in church matters, suddenly became a regular attendant at service, greatly to the astonishment of his fellow townsmen.

"What do you think," said one of the business men to his friend. "Is it true that Jones has got religion?"

"No," was the reply; "it is entirely a matter of business with him. About a year ago he loaned the pastor $50. The preacher was unable to pay it back, so there was nothing for Jones to do but to take it out in pew rent."

TOLD TO MAKE HASTE IN GOING

Albert and Sadie Wilson, who claim their home as Charleroi were picked up on the streets of Monessen yesterday for begging. The woman did the main act, while her husband stood in the background, as an ornament. They were both a little intoxicated. When brought before the burgess, they were told to get out of town.

John Simpson was arrested at Monessen as being a suspicious character. He was also told to lend wings to his heels and mind not the dust he raised in getting out of the vicinity.

California borough has sold bonds to the amount of $20,000; the money will be used in street improvments.

The name of Cadwallader postoffice has been changed to South Brownsville. The name of the town (Bridgeport) will also be changed to correspond.

Four young men of Homestead have started to walk to Philadelphia.

Twenty-four horses were burned to death on the Thaw farm at Carpentertown Tuesday night.

Delmont has a ghost which cuts queer capers. A club is a great layer of "ghosts."

Rather than face the court in a breach of promise suit for $10,000 Virgilio Chiotte, of Midland, consented to legally marry the woman with whom he had lived illegally for many years. The bride is Francesca Liano, a woman of good standing among those of her nationality. The couple appeared at the clerk's office yesterday, secured a license and were married by Justice Henry Gantz of Washington.

The court threw a bomb shell into the camp of the wholesale liquor dealers of Homestead this morning, when it issued orders to the clerk of courts not to issue any wholesale licenses in Homestead until further notice.

H. W. McIntosh, attorney for the dairy and food commission in Allegheny county, has been instructed to start injunction proceedings against dealers who persist in violating the law by selling colored oleo-margarine. Mr. McIntosh has already filed a petition asking that attachments be issued against P. M. Corrigan, of Homestead, E. J. Dunn, F. A. Hanley and John Preach for alleged contempt. Judge J. C. Haymaker granted a rule, returnable tomorrow

The euchre and dance Tuesday night given by the Catholic societies of Donora in the First National bank building was a grand success. A large crowd was present and all had a fine time. Jenkins orchestra, of Charleroi, furnished the music.

The Blue Laws have been received against the Sunday fisherman. It costs more to fish on Sunday, even for the innocent chub, than it does to sell cigars, soft drinks and sweetmeats.

Uniontown has a citizen who is ambitious to hoot up the town, but the authorities evince a disposition to discourage his ambition.

Some of the hearties of Bernkerton while away an idle hour by thugging each other. Good sport.

TRAINING SHIP DESTROYED BY EXPLOSION

One Hundred and Fifty Nine Officers And Men Lost.

THREE CAPTAINS KILLED

Tokio, Japan, 12 m. (Special to Mail.) The Japanese training cruiser Matsuprima, Togos flagship at the Yalu river, was sunk off Pescadores Island, this morning by an explosion. One hundred and fifty-nine officers and men including three captains were lost.

The playful element was never entirely absent from the late Prof. Drummond's class in natural science at Edinburgh university, and Dr. T. Hunter Boyd, in his book, "Henry Drummond," ascribes its frequent cropping out to the professor's own sense of humor, which encouraged naturalness.

On one occasion Prof. Drummond announced that unfortunately he could not meet the class next day, as he had an important engagement. The students heard that he was absent on account of his sister's wedding.

On the day following, when a geological specimen was passed round the class, it was prominently labeled "Drummond's wedding-cake."

It is said that the professor was as quietly appreciative as any member of the class.—Youth's Companion.

PERKINS RELEASED FROM JAIL ON BAIL

James Perkins, the miner held by the coroner's jury as being responsible for the awful disaster at the Ellsworth mine which last week resulted in the killing of four men, was yesterday released from the county jail on bail.

It was stated at the inquest that Perkins left open the door which was the cause of the accident and as the result of this testimony he was held for the grand jury.

ODD FELLOWS ENTERTIANMENT VERY PLEASING

Event Of Last Night Brought Out Numbers Of Lodgemen.

GOOD PROGRAM RENDERED

The Odd Fellows, their wives, and members of the Rebeckah degree had a great time in the I. O. O. F. hall last night with an entertainment and banquet. Music, recitations, and readings made the program replete with enjoyable features.

The program:

Selection—Orchetra.
Recitation, "Octoroon"—Miss Larmer.
Recitation, "Jealous Wife"—Miss Shanks.
Song, "Smartie"—Earl Nicholson and Bannister Roberts.
Recitation, "Jamie"—Miss Welsh.
Selection—Orchestra.
Recitation—Miss Norris.
Violin Duet—Klysteber and Latchem.
Song, "I'm Afraid to go Home in the Dark"—Earl Nickelson and Bannister Roberts.
Reading—Miss Dorbitz.
Song, "Dear Old Girl."—Mr. Klysteber.
Selection—Orchestra.

The entertainment ended by a one act comedy by members of the house to go, entitled "Carey's" Court. This was extremely funny and proved a source of much delight to the Odd Fellows and ladies. The judge was portrayed by J. B. Reid; Profs. Astor, by Robert Craig; Lawyer Bismarkey C. R. Welsh; Officer McGinty, by M. L. Byrnes; Domini Bradia, by J. B. Savage; Rosy Posy by Miss Ella Watson; Mary Dough, by Elizabeth Byrnes; and Jimmy the Tough, by Joseph Thompson.

The banquet after the entertainment was a big affair. Visitors were present from lodges in the surrounding towns.

CONCERT TONIGHT AT SCHOOL HALL

Tonight is the time for the big Monongahela Valley Chorus at the School Hall and tickets are going fast. The program will consist of numbers by the chorus from the greatest masters of the past and present ages, readings by Miss Knowles and piano solos by Prof. Morse.

Prof. Cornell has chosen the best music possible for his program and has diligently trained his singers. The candid opinion of a Charleroi man who ought to know concerning their ability as singers is that the Valley chorus is one of the best organizations of the kind in the country, and will surprise even the Charleroi people who expect the most of them.

The reader, Miss Knowles is an accomplished lady in her line and one of the best on the stage today. The pianist, Charles Frederick Morse is widely known as a musician. He will use the A. B. Chase piano, furnished by S. Hamilton company, Pittsburg.

MONONGAHELA OPERA HOUSE TO BE TORN DOWN

At Expiration of Present lease Owners Will Begin Making Improvements.

WAS GOOD PLAYHOUSE

The first of July next will mark the passing of the opera house at Monongahela. At that time the lease of Manager Willoughby will expire, and he has been notified by the owners, of the First National Bank, that it will not be extended. This decision was arrived at by the bank officials on Monday, when tentative plans were adopted for the remodeling of the building. As now planned, the second story of the building will be fitted up for offices. The third story will be used either for flats or a public hall, that matter not having been definitely decided by the board of directors. The first floor, now occupied by Corrin and Corrin, whose lease expires the first of next January, will be fitted up for a banking room as soon as possession is obtained, which will not be until after the first of the year. Work on these improvements will likely begin as soon as the lease of Mr. Willougby expires, which will be some time after July 1. Corrins will continue to occupy the store room until the expiration of their lease, when the grocery store will be removed to a commodious location which Mr. Corrin has in view.

The opera house was erected by the late Dr. H. J. Gamble, in 1885, and the upper floors have been used as an opera house from that year until the present time. Whether another playhouse will be erected in the city is a question that is now under advisement, and one that will be settled with a few weeks.

Letter to Philip Snow.

Charleroi, Pa.

Dear Sir: The maket, who puts 2 or 3 lbs of whiting barytes or clay in a gallon of paint, saves $1.50 or $2.25 for himself and makes you overpay $25 on a $50 job.

It takes 15 gallons of his weak paint—it is weak from that adulteration and probably weak from bonnine or water besides—it takes 15 gallons of that poor stuff to cover a 10-gallon of Devoe; it may take 20. Here's a case:

Judge I D Fairchild owns two houses, exactly alike, in Lufkin, Texas, J M Torrence painted both houses, one Devoe, 15 1-2 gallons; the other with another paint sold at same price;: 25 gallons. That 25 gallon paint is weak and 15 0-0 whiting; that's why it took 9 1-2 gallons more.

It costs $2 to $4 a gallon to paint any paint, whether good or not. Add this to the price, and the cost of your job is $5 a gallon: $75 or $100 for trash; Devoe $50.

Paint that takes more gallons may or may not be adulterated; there are 8 pure paints and 200 adulterated; Devoe is the strongest of all; it takes least gallons, makes the least bill, and wears longest of all.

You can overpay from 10 to 120 per cent. and the more you pay, the worse your job. In paint, the rule is less gallons, least cost, longest wear.

Yours truly
F W DEVOE & CO

EAST LIVERPOOL HIT TO HEAVY FOR LOCAL BOYS

Shove Five Runs Over While Two Were Enough.

GOT TEN HITS OFF MAC

After Charleroi had succeeded in chasing a run over the plate in the fourth inning of yesterday's game East Liverpool got busy and held them safe during the remaining stages of the game. While they were holding the locals safe they were wielding the willow some themselves and in all managed to tally five runs, three of which came in the sixth inning.

Charleroi scored their only tally in the fourth. Nally singled and Jenkins sacrificed him to second. Gilbert followed Jenkins with a hot one at third on which Nally scored from second. During the remaining portion of the game the locals had no opportunity to score, but one more hit being reigstered, which went to Mathers in the seventh.

The Pottery City boys got their first one in the fourth when "Sunny" Price hit to left field fence for three bases. Konkle followed Price with a long fly to Mathers in right on which "Sunny" scored. The sixth inning brought defeat to Charleroi when there were registered by East Liverpool. After Beecher had gone down from Cosgrove to Jenkins, Woodroff doubled. Tarleton followed with a single and stole second. Alcock got his second single sending two runs over with the drive. McClelland made the second out from Houser to Jenkins. Price drove one to Houser which he booted and the third run crossed. The last one come in the ninth on Alcocks single and stolen base followed by a single by McClelland. Score.

East Liverpool looks pretty good.

Tarleton was given the glad hand by his local admirers.

Beecher had a busy day at second accepting 12 chances without a slip.

Tomorrow the Pa. & W. Va. opens, with Charleroi at Uniontown Saturday, will be opening day in Charleroi.

Alcock seems to be there some with the stick having three singles out of four times up. He also had two stolen bases and scored two runs.

Charleroi looks better every day and with a little warm weather they will quickly round into shape.

Willig's arm is still pretty sore and he may be out of the game for another week.

ELDORA PARK WILL HAVE A GOOD SEASON

Manager Sloan Booking dates For Picnics This Spring and Summer.

OPENING SAT., MAY 23

On Saturday, May 23, Eldora Park will open auspiciously for the spring and summer season, and the present indications are that it will this summer be more popular as a pleasure resort than during the previous season.

The last's year's manager, Tom P. Sloan, was re-elected at a recent meeting of the board of directors and will have a force of men on the grounds tomorrow getting the park in good shape. Everything will be in perfect readiness for the opening day, when a large crowd is anticipated. On Wednesday May 27, the Monongahela schools will enjoy an outing at Eldora, the pupils, directors and parents to be the guests of Mr. Claude E. Towner. The following day, May 28, the Charleroi schools will have their outing.

Perhaps the most important booking of the summer will be the annual picnic and outing of the Valley clubs of Odd Fellows. They will have the park engaged for July 15. Until this year the Odd Fellows have held their outing at Grove City and it is an occasion much looked forward to by the members of that lodge. Other lodges and societies are already booking dates, so that the park can but have a prosperous season.

Children Should Be Models.

The kings of Persia place their children under the direction of four of the greatest men of the nation, viz., the most wise, the most just, the most temperate and the most courageous. The first teaches them religion. The second inculcates in them the strongest principles of truth and justice. From the third they learn to subdue their passions; and from the fourth they acquire a contempt of danger.

TENDER MEMBER FAREWELL SURPRISE

A farewell surprise party was tendered Mrs. Mary E. Dunn, at her home at Fallowfield avenue and Eight street, last night by a number of the members of the tribe of Ben Hur from Charleroi and Monessen. Mrs. Dunn leaves today for Pittsburg where she will make her future home and as is the custom with the Ben Hurs, they desired to honor her by a party. There were the usual diversions of a social nature. Instrumental and vocal music was furnished, A. B. Stevens of Monessen, and Albert Wilson of Charleroi contributing largely to the evening's entertainment with vocal solos.

Refreshments were served the guests.

FEEHAN SAYS HE NEVER MADE SUCH STATEMENT

Returns From Mercer-Butler Field To Pittsburg.

REACH NO AGREEMENT

President Francis Feehan, of district No. 5, of the miners' organization, returned to Pittsburg yesterday from Greenville, where he has been endeavoring to adjust the wage scale differences between the miners and operators of the Mercer-Butler field.

He expressed the greatest indignation over the report that he is said to have declared that he would put conditions up to the operators of the Pittsburg district that would result in their refusal to sign a wage scale contract for the district and plunge the Western Pennsylvania fields into a strike involving 50,000 men.

The miners' leader reiterated his denial that he has made such a statement and says that he has been misquoted. He admits discussing the Western-Pennsylvania situation while at Greenville, but says his attitude regarding the Pittsburg situation is far from being antagonistic.

Operators were in consultation with the miners' district officers yesterday and it is probable that the postponed wage scale conference to formally sign the new Pittsburg scale will be held next week.

In discussing the situation in the Mercer-Butler field, President Feehan said 2,000 men are involved in the trouble. He says that they are the worst paid miners of the county and that their working conditions are abominable. No agreement has been reached with the employing companies and the leaders of the miners says that none is probable for some days.

Not The Proper Argument.

One of our Monongahela exchanges urging the election of a County Superintendent of Schools, desires him to be chosen from "a river town."

It is the man, not the town, that fills the office. Qualification, not the place of residence, should be the guide in the selection of an official.

If a candidate from "a river town" has the superior merit and better qualified to fill the position than a candidate from another part of the county, then he should be chosen without a dissenting vote. If, on the other hand, a candidate from Washington, Canonsburg, or elsewhere, possesses superior merits and can direct the school affairs towards the highest standard, that mans hould be selected.

The Jeffersonian qualifications, "capable and honest," should be the sole standard used in selecting a new superintendent of schools or for any other office.

The sectional feeling and division, hitherto existing, has wrought much evil in the affairs of this county and should no longer obtain, least of all, in selecting a man for an office which bears such an intimate relation and so vitally interests all of the people and is so fraught with possibilities for weal or woe to the rising generation of Washington county as that of the Superintendent of Schools.

We repeat, the best qualified man, not his place of residence, is the only rule by which to be guided in filling that office. Any other rule is dangerous to the morale and advancement and progress of education. Finally, why should not the people vote for a Superintendent of Schools?

Cannot Be Suited.

It were folly to suppose that the attitudes of Messrs. Dalzell or Cannon upon any point affecting the tariff would meet with favor in the eyes of the Pittsburg Post.

The Post declares there is paper trust. Messrs. Dalzell and Cannon want that charge investigated. The Post wants the tariff on paper removed on exparte evidence, Messrs. Dalzell and Cannon have to be shown. Hence the wails of The Post.

Well Done.

The Republican State Convention held yesterday was a model. In its brevity, in the platform it was notable. The felicitious language used in commending the distinguished services of our United States Senators left nothing to be desired. Its eulogy of the State administration was just and deserved.

The character of its nominee for Superior Court Judge is reproachless and his renomination was a graceful acknowledgement of that fact.

There were no factions, no divisions nor squabbles. The party is united, time victory in the Fall. The delegates transacted their brief business in an admirable and deserve praise. The convention was one of good omen.

The Other Way.

There was a hopeful gleam in the eyes of the young man with a slightly retreating chin as he approached the father of his ladylove.

"Will you give your daughter to me in marriage, sir?" he asked in as firm a tone as he could muster.

"I'm afraid you are not well enough acquainted with her, young man," remarked the father.

"Why, I've seen her twice a week for nearly a year," said the astonished suitor.

"That may all be," said the parent, "but if you knew much about her character you'd have said, 'Will you give me to your daughter in marriage?'"

A Poet's Slip.

A correspondent of London Notes and Queries has "caught out" Mr. Kipling in an extraordinary blunder. He finds it in the "Last Chantey" in these lines:

Then said the souls of the slaves that men threw overboard:
. . . . . .
were we,
But thy arm was strong to save,
And it touched us on the wave,
And we drowsed the long tides idle till thy trumpets tore the sea."

"Of course," says the commentator, "the word Kipling meant to use was barracoon, the technical term for a slave pen. Picaroon means a rogue."

Helping a Revolutionist.

[Original.]

While at St. Petersburg the American minister secured an invitation for me to a state dinner at which the emperor and empress were present. I didn't care to go to another one. Any enjoyment in court society in Russia in these days is like smoking while sitting on a barrel of gunpowder.

Opposite me sat an important government functionary, a man about forty years old, and his dinner companion was a girl of twenty. I was struck with her appearance the moment I placed my eyes upon her, and yet I could not explain why. All I can say is that she was noticeable. I concluded that she would not have been there had she not been noble.

She chatted affably all through the dinner with her companion till the end, when I noticed that she suddenly became agitated. She was eating nuts and raisins at the time and bent low over the plate containing them, using a nut pick as though she were nearsighted. When she raised her eyes they met mine, and I thought I saw in them a mute appeal.

Naturally the girl absorbed all my interest. Indeed, when we all rose at the departure of the emperor and empress, instead of craning my neck to get a glimpse of them I kept my eyes fixed upon her. When we seated ourselves again she seemed to be annoyed at something under the table and put a hand under it, apparently, at least, to feel what it was. She had no sooner done this than I saw her again look at me with that same mysterious something in her eyes. Whatever it was it was more like an appeal for help than anything else. I returned it with a questioning glance, as if to say, "What do you want me to do?" But there is a limit to what one can say simply by an expression, and she seemed to be able to help me no further.

Meanwhile I was racking my brain for a solution. I am a believer in transference of thought, and I am sure the girl assisted my mental effort by exerting her will power to guide me. I put my hand under the table. The girl turned ashy pale. I felt about in front of me till my fingers came in contact with some little pointed article sticking into the bottom of the table. I withdrew it and found it to be a nut pick. It was stuck through a bit of paper folded in the form of a rectangle. This I knew without taking my find out into the light, working with one hand while with the other I held the stem of my wineglass.

Now, it did not occur to me just then that I was in imminent danger of being whisked off to Siberia before daylight the next morning. I knew, however, that the girl was playing some desperate game, and all my faculties were exerted in her behalf. It did not require deep penetration to surmise that she wished to get rid of the rectangular folded paper or something in it. The nut pick must be unimportant and only a means to an end. I contrived with one hand to open the paper. I thought I could feel a powder in it, and, withdrawing my hand far enough to look at it, I saw that the thumb and finger were covered with something white. If there was any more of the contents it must have been scattered on the floor.

For a time I thought my work done, but presently it occurred to me that enough of the powder or whatever it was would cling to the paper to identify the former substance. A happy thought occurred to me. Taking a cigarette from my pocket and a match, I struck the match. I had crumpled the paper and instead of lighting my cigarette at once chatted with my next neighbor, and then, pretending to notice that the match was nearly burned, I touched it to the paper and lit the cigarette from the latter.

The moment the paper began to burn a waiter on the opposite side of the table hurried around to where I was. I knew surely that he was coming to me for a purpose, but he was too late. When he reached me the paper had become ashes.

I cannot to this day forget the look of the girl opposite. It was the quintessence of relief and gratitude.

On leaving the palace I was taken in charge by Cossacks, driven to police quarters and searched. They found only in my vest pocket a nut pick, which I have at the present day. I had my passport with me, and my captors knew that I had been invited to the dinner at the request of the American minister. This, considering that they had no evidence of political or other crime against me, gained me my liberty, but I was ordered to leave Russia at once. Having seen all I wanted of a society living on dynamite, I departed by the first train.

The episode remained unexplained till more than a year afterward, when I had returned to America. One day I received a call from a Russian. He told me that he was a member of an American branch of a Russian secret political society whose object was to aid the revolution. His circle had been ordered to find me and to thank me for saving the daughter of a Russian noble high in favor with the emperor from death or Siberia. Her dinner companion was a man hated by the revolutionists. She had gone to the palace prepared to poison him, but discovered that she was watched by a government official in the dress of a waiter. I asked him what had become of the girl, but on this subject I received no information whatever. The chances are that she is in a Siberian prison, but I do not like to think of that.

SULLIVAN KING.

Among the Exchanges

The license court of Greene county granted a license to sell liquors to only one applicant in the entire county. Adverting to this the Connellsville Daily Courier says: "Greene county grants but one license and that is on the Fayette county line. The license court evidently wants Greene county to receive all the financial benefits of the license system with as little injury as possible."

The people of Hughsville, up in Lycoming county think of cutting down their shade trees, which leads the Williamsport Sun to say: "The Hughesville folks are discussing the question as to whether the cutting of many of the fine old shade trees that formerly bordered the main street of that town has destroyed some of the beauty of the place. To be sure the erection of many new buildings, the requirements of business, the convenience of property owners often combine to make necessary the removal of trees. But never unless absolutely necessary ought a shade tree be sacrificed. Her fine old shade trees were one of the prides of Hughesville adding both to to the comfort of her people and the attractiveness of her streets. Save the trees."

Curiosity Not Stilled.

A certain Tombs prisoner landed in jail almost penniless. He was a man who had figured in a number of the town's shady transactions, and his name was pretty well known. A few days after his incarceration he wrote to a friend asking for a monthly allowance of $10 to be continued during his term of imprisonment. The friend, remembering past favors, remitted the amount each month during a period that covered two trials and the long time intervening. One day it occurred to him to inquire into the manner of expending the allowance. He supposed it was used to buy occasional extra meals, a few cigars and newspapers, but just as a matter of curiosity he asked for particulars. He found to his astonishment that the prisoner had never ordered an extra meal and had not smoked a cigar all the time he had been in jail.

"Then what in thunder," demanded the man, "have you been doing with that $10 a month?"

"I subscribed to two press clipping bureaus," replied the prisoner coolly. "You don't suppose, do you, that I am going to pass through this, the most critical time of my life, without finding out what everybody has got to say about me?"—New York Times.

He Grasped the Idea.

"Tommy," said his teacher, "the words 'circumstantial evidence' occur in the lesson. Do you know what circumstantial evidence is?"

Tommy replied that he did not.

"Well, I will explain it to you by an illustration. You know we have a rule against eating apples in school. Suppose some morning I should see you in your seat with a look held up in front of your face. I say nothing, but presently I go around to where you are sitting. You are busily studying your lesson, but I find that your face is smeared, while under the edge of your slate I see the core of a freshly eaten apple.

"I should know just as well as if I had caught you at it that you have been eating an apple, although, of course, I did not see you do it. That is a case in which circumstantial evidence convicts you. Do you think you know what it is now?"

"Yes, ma'am," said Tommy. "It's eating apples in school." — Youth's Companion.

The Mormons.

The Book of Mormon appeared in 1830. Joseph Smith of Palmyra, N. Y., claimed that he had received it as a new Bible for all mankind. He began preaching Mormon doctrines, gathered followers, who migrated to Kirkland, O., and later to Missouri, whence they were driven out by their neighbors. They then went to Illinois, building the city of Nauvoo, and adopted polygamy, but they met with strong opposition there and finally settled at Salt Lake. They had hardly reached there before the foreign soil they had chosen was a part of the United States by a treaty with Mexico.

Bill—I see he is trying to have the judge's sentence reversed.

Jill—What was the sentence?

"Ten dollars or ten days."

"Well, I don't see what good it would do to have it reversed."

"Why not?"

"Wouldn't ten days or $10 be just as bad?"—Yonkers Statesman.

STEAM-SCHOONER IS UNIQUE

Vessel of the Pacific Adapted to Carry Heavy Loads.

The steam-schooner, a vessel whose build and habits are peculiar to the Pacific, writes Mr. Ralph D. Paine in "The Greater America," often goes to sea "with her load-line over her hatch," which means that after her hold has been crammed with cargo, a deck-load of lumber is piled halfway up the masts, so that her skipper puts out with the water washing over his main deck.

Along the harbor front of Seattle runs the story of a passenger who loped down to the wharf in a hurry to get aboard a departing steam schooner. He balanced himself on the stringpiece for an instant, looked down at what little he could see of the laden craft, and hove his gripsack down the only opening in sight. He was about to dive after it when a lounger on the wharf shouted:

"Hi, there! Where do you think you're jumpin' to? That's the smokestack you tossed your baggage down."

"What!" gasped the passenger. "I thought it was the hatch."

The story has a slight flavor of exaggeration, but it may serve to hint that the contrivances of the Pacific have ways of its own.—Youth's Companion.

Lands and Acreage

NOTICE

TO FARM BUYERS AND INVESTORS

Send for our free illustrated booklet giving full particulars of farm lands in the great "PANHANDLE OF TEXAS."

This is the best location for a farmer, as well as an unequalled opportunity for the investor, as the prices are now low, but are going up very rapidly, the land is slow and level and is much richer than farm land in Pennsylvania. A wonderful variety of crops are successfully raised; in fact, you can make more than the cost of your farm in the first year.

The climate is the very best to be found anywhere. The rainfall during the crop growing season is as great as in the Northern States and there is also an inexhaustible supply of fresh water underlying all our land.

Now is the time for you to investigate this proposition, as thousands of people from the north are continually locating here and you should not wait until the prices are too high.

We own or control several hundred thousand acres near railroads and towns, which are being sold for from $10 to $25 per acre, according to location. Good terms.

Call or address [illegible] we want you to go with us. Very low rates and first-class accommodations.

We want you to get to see this land as soon as possible, and if after seeing it you find that we have misrepresented it we will pay you back your time and and expense of making the trip.

You Can Easily Operate This Typewriter Yourself

Don't worry your conscience [illegible]
Don't write him something or hand [illegible] time to find out—that may leave him in doubt—that he can't easily read.
And don't fill out [illegible] papers or card memo—or make out accounts or hotel menus in your own handwriting.
It looks bad, reflects on your standing, makes people think you can't afford a stenographer, and is sometimes ambiguous.
You can write out your letter—make out an abstract—fill in an insurance policy—enter your card memo—make out your accounts or a hotel menu—or do any kind of writing you need, on any kind, size or thickness of paper, and space any way you want on

The OLIVER Typewriter

You can write any of these things if you do not happen to have a stenographer.

For you can easily learn, with a little practice, to write just as rapidly, and as perfectly, as an expert operator on the OLIVER. Because the OLIVER is the simplified typewriter. And you can see every word you write. About 50 per cent. more durable than any other typewriter, because it has about 50 per cent. less wearing points than any other typewriters.

50 per cent. easier to write with than these other complicated, intricate machine that require "humoring"—technical knowledge—long practice and special skill to operate.

Than machines which cannot be adjusted to any special space—with which it is impossible to write abstracts, insurance policies, or oddsize documents except you buy expensive special attachments requiring experts to operate.

You can adjust the OLIVER to any reasonable space—you can write on any reasonable size and thickness of paper, right out to the very edge, without the aid of any expensive attachments or special skill, and your work will be neat appearing, legible and clear.

For the OLIVER is the typewriter for the doctor, the lawyer, the insurance agent, the merchant, the hotel proprietor—or any man who does his own writing.

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent. interest paid in savings department.

Marlin

THE Marlin Model 1894 is a medium light weight repeating rifle, a well proportioned, finely balanced gun with all the advantages and comforts of the Marlin solid-top, side-ejecting construction. It is quick and easy of operation, accurate up to 300 yards and a very pleasant gun to carry and to shoot.

For settled districts and farming country where the shooting at woodchucks, badgers, foxes, coons, hawks, etc., is at ranges from 100 to 200 yards, the .25-20 and .32-20 rifles with the black and low-pressure smokeless loads cannot be equalled for accuracy and safety. The factory ammunition for the Model '94 rifles is cheap, and can be reloaded at very small cost.

The up-to-date sportsman needs the "Marlin Book" every day in the year. It contains 136 pages of live stuff for the man who loves a good gun, and wants to know everything about it. FREE for 3 stamps postage.

RESULTS OF MINE EXAMS

13 For Mine Foremen And 23 For Fire Bosses-

ONE CHARLEROI MAN

The examination board of miners of this district, consisting of Henry Louttit, John McVicker and A. N. Jenkins, which last week conducted an examination at Monongahela for fire bosses and mine foremen, last night decided on the successful applicants, and today made the result known.

Of the twenty-four men who took the examination for mine foremen only thirteen made a sufficient grade to pass. Of forty-three applicants for fire bosses, the examining board returned twenty three papers with a passing grade.

Those who passed the examinations will be taken to the Catsburg mine next week to try the safety lamp with the gas.

One Charleroi man was successful. A. B. Brown, of McKean avenue, who was an applicant for mine foreman.

MUST HAVE ASTONISHED BRUIN.

Hunter Dropped from Limb and Brute Shot Up in the Air.

"I never fooled a bear but once in my life," said an old California hunter. "I was hunting quail with a light gun one day, when I suddenly met a very large bear. I was willing to pass without speaking, but Bruin was mad about something and bristled up for a fight.

"So I let him have both barrels, and then cut for a tree. The shot dazed him for a minute, and then he gave chase, and pretty soon came clawing up after me. There was a long, projecting limb on one side, and when I saw him coming, I got out to the extreme end, although it bent like a reed under my weight.

"Out came the bear after me, slowly and carefully, and with every step the branch bent lower. When the bear got within two yards of me I was within ten feet of the ground. Then I dropped down, and, as the bear shot up 20 feet in the air, I made for home as fast as I could run."

BIG FEATURE ACT AT STAR

A feature act is booked for the Star this week, said to be one of the biggest acts of the kind in vaudeville today. This is Cora Swaine's four and twenty Cocatoos. These bird performers are wonderful, and the amount of knowledge stored in their little brains would almost put some humans to shame. In fact they do everything but talk and even try that sometimes.

Others at the Star are Dick Miller, dialect and mimic comedian and Dan Randall, character singing and dancing comedian.

Getting Square.

A tight-fisted man in a small town in Pennsylvania, who until recently had never been observed to take any interest in church matters, suddenly became a regular attendant at service, greatly to the astonishment of his fellow townsmen.

"What do you think," said one of the business men to his friend. "Is it true that Jones has got religion?"

"No," was the reply; "it is entirely a matter of business with him. About a year ago he loaned the pastor $50. The preacher was unable to pay it back, so there was nothing for Jones to do but to take it out in pew rent."

TOLD TO MAKE HASTE IN GOING

Albert and Sadie Wilson, who claim their home as Charleroi were picked up on the streets of Monessen yesterday for begging. The woman did the main act, while her husband stood in the background, as an ornament. They were both a little intoxicated. When brought before the burgess, they were told to get out of town.

John Simpson was arrested at Monessen as being a suspicious character. He was also told to lend wings to his heels and mind not the dust be raised in getting out of the vicinity.
